cyberflex, a Berlin-based collective, has been rapidly gaining recognition in the electronic music world. Known for their distinctive sound, they draw heavy inspiration from the legendary Detroit techno scene and its pioneering artists. This influence is palpably woven into their music, creating a bridge between the classic roots of techno and the contemporary electronic landscape.

Founded by an eclectic group of musicians, producers, and visual artists, cyberflex stands out for their collaborative approach to music production. Their sound is a harmonious blend of traditional electronic rhythms with innovative sonic textures, reflecting the diverse backgrounds and skill sets of its members.

Their live performances are a testament to their artistic vision, often accompanied by immersive visual experiences crafted by their in-house artists. This multidisciplinary approach not only enhances the auditory experience but also creates a unique, holistic experience for their

DJ SKAIN

CLICK HERE

Born deep within the belly of a dying star, DJ Skain, aka Baron Skain of Aquitaine, first gained a vigorous reputation for his ambisexual freak technique while dropping 2-Step, UK Garage, Grime & Hip Hop barz hardcore like porno-flick witches. After a brief spell working as a mercenary in the Nicaraguan Death Squad, the Baron eventually was asked to play on London's notorious Vibe FM pirate radio station as a DJ and MC. Pon' the decks, Skain only drank on the bubbly, not Bacardi, beer or brandy, holding it down within the airwave vicinity, with his slick mixing flow which dominates like Bruce Lee. But as we all know, Internet killed the pirate star, so he moved to the Prussian capital to seek fame and glory elsewhere. The gallant chevalier began frequenting uncouth discothèques but he soon grew suspicious of formulaic 4/4 sound signatures which ran counter to his musical nature of exploration. Aus diesem Grund, DJ Skain founded -MEGA BUFF RECORDS- a community based label, radio, and event series with a funky reputation for slicing lemon fresh music with ill intent. In the lingua franca, "we ain't no regular Berlin Casablanca."

When it comes to music and everything beyond, Lai Raw's mission is one of constant cultural exploration and evolution. Growing up in the balmy south of Spain his sound is informed by the warm and melancholic flavours while his love for breakbeats and skippy grooves stems from his time studying sound in London. Now residing in Berlin, Lai Raw managed to first build a reputation in the local hip-hop scene through a string of successful releases with his production outfit Dope est Dope as well as his genre-defying DJ collective and event series 195.bl.n. His recent #Rawsauce club edits as well as his latest house singles 'Newly Luv' and 'Special 2 Her' find him going down a clubby and more dance-floor oriented path. After joining Berlin's Emotional Voyage Records and co-founding booking agency CURA Berlin it seems this journey is only just starting.

Moodrich is a Berlin based producer and DJ, who found his passion in music. Inspired by the sound of Lo-Fi, he's always looking for the sweet-spot between organic and synthetic sounds. Providing his special touch by including various genres from House and Techno, up to Breakbeat/Jungle or to whatever kind of a sub genre the kids call it nowadays. Influenced through hip hop and various sub genres, he's trying to make a difference and brings pure warmth back to the floor. Since he started producing music in 2017 he brought out several releases on nameable labels from all over the world and is definitely no stranger to fine groove dance music connoisseur. His defined DJ style and precise sampling art are his trademark and have formed his brilliant and unmistakable sound. Next to partner in crime UrbnMowgli he stands and curates Emotional Voyage Records as founding father.
